

AIG-Israel Selects Raz-Lee's iSecurity for its System i Security Infrastructure

Herzliya, Israel – July 15, 2009 – Raz-Lee Security, a leading supplier of information security solutions for IBM System i Servers, announced that AIG-Israel, a leading Direct Insurance company affiliated with the AIG group, has selected an information security solution from Raz-Lee Security for the protection of AIG's server infrastructure.

AIG-Israel attaches high importance to the protection of its System i (IBM-AS/400) servers, as they are the central servers of the organization. The insurance company chose iSecurity based on their previous experience with Raz-Lee Security's products, and following the recommendation of independent professional advisors.

The iSecurity system selected by AIG-Israel provides a comprehensive security solution for preventing breaches and potential damage to the organization's activities. iSecurity enables AIG to block break-in attempts from external sources, to receive detailed reports on employee activities (including actual screen captures of user activity), and to control user's rights to view data. In addition, the system continuously informs relevant staff regarding changes in the business-critical databases of the company, using real-time alerts and timeline reports displaying all changes relating to any subject. These reports can integrate information from all the company's systems (financial, purchase and manufacturing).

"iSecurity significantly simplifies the protection of our centralized computer systems, especially in the TCP/IP environment," said Mr. Etzion Yatsiv, VP and Chief Information Officer, AIG-Israel. "Considering all the flexible option it offers, iSecurity is extremely easy to use", added Mr. Yatsiv.

"We are proud to cooperate with a large international insurance company such as AIG," said Eli Spitz, VP Business Development, Raz-Lee Security. "iSecurity was designed to supply the numerous insurance companies within our clientele with the rock-solid protection they need, as well as with advanced monitoring capabilities, which enable their business operations to be conducted properly and safely", added Mr. Spitz.
